

1-235:1FC6 Academic & Clinical Relationships

| School of Nursing

1 F Academic & Clinical Relationships
c Relationships with Academic Institutions
b Boston University

STATEMENT OF POLICIES RELATING TO COOPERATIVE FIELD WORK PLANS BETWEEN BOSTON UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF EDUCATION DIVISION OF NURSING EDUCATION AND THE MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING

A. Number of Field Work Students at Massachusetts General Hospital

1. In each semester of the academic year there may be a maximum of eight field work students for a coordinating supervisor.
2. In each semester of the academic year the maximum number of practice teachers in Introduction to Nursing may be, 2; in applied science, 2; in clinical teaching and/or supervision, 6.

B. Conditions Appertaining to the Appointment of the Cooperative Coordinating Supervisor

1. The appointment of a person at the University as Instructor in Nursing Education and Coordinating Supervisor of Field Work Activities at the Massachusetts General Hospital will be contingent upon her appointment to the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing faculty also as
2. The term of appointment shall be for the calendar year in accordance with other nursing school faculty appointments. This period will include appointment for the academic year at the University and for the summer term, also, at the election of the Instructor and by arrangement with the Director of the Summer Session.

3. The time of the appointee shall be considered as half-time at each institution.
For duties related to the hospital appointment this shall mean twenty-four hours of service weekly.

At the University this will mean; during the academic year carrying 9 semester hours teaching and service load; 6 semester hours of which is in field work (equal to 16 clock hours) and 3 semester hours of which is in class work (equal to 3 clock hours); during the summer term carrying 6 clock hours of class work weekly for 12 weeks.

4. Her University responsibilities will be:

At the hospital; during the academic year, planning, directing, supervising the field work students' programs and activities.

At the University; during the academic year, teaching at least one course each semester. If the number of field work students drops to three or below, consideration may be given to the Instructor's assisting with or carrying an additional course at the college after the first year of appointment; during the summer term, if so elected and arranged, teaching at least two courses, one in Intersession and one in Summer Session, preferably.

5. The University salary for the first academic year of appointment will be $1200. This is paid in 12 equal installments. An additional sum in accordance with the then prevailing salary schedule will be paid for the two courses taught during the summer term. (Present rate of pay $300 for two courses.)

The hospital salary will be $1440 for the first year of appointment. This will be paid in 12 equal installments.

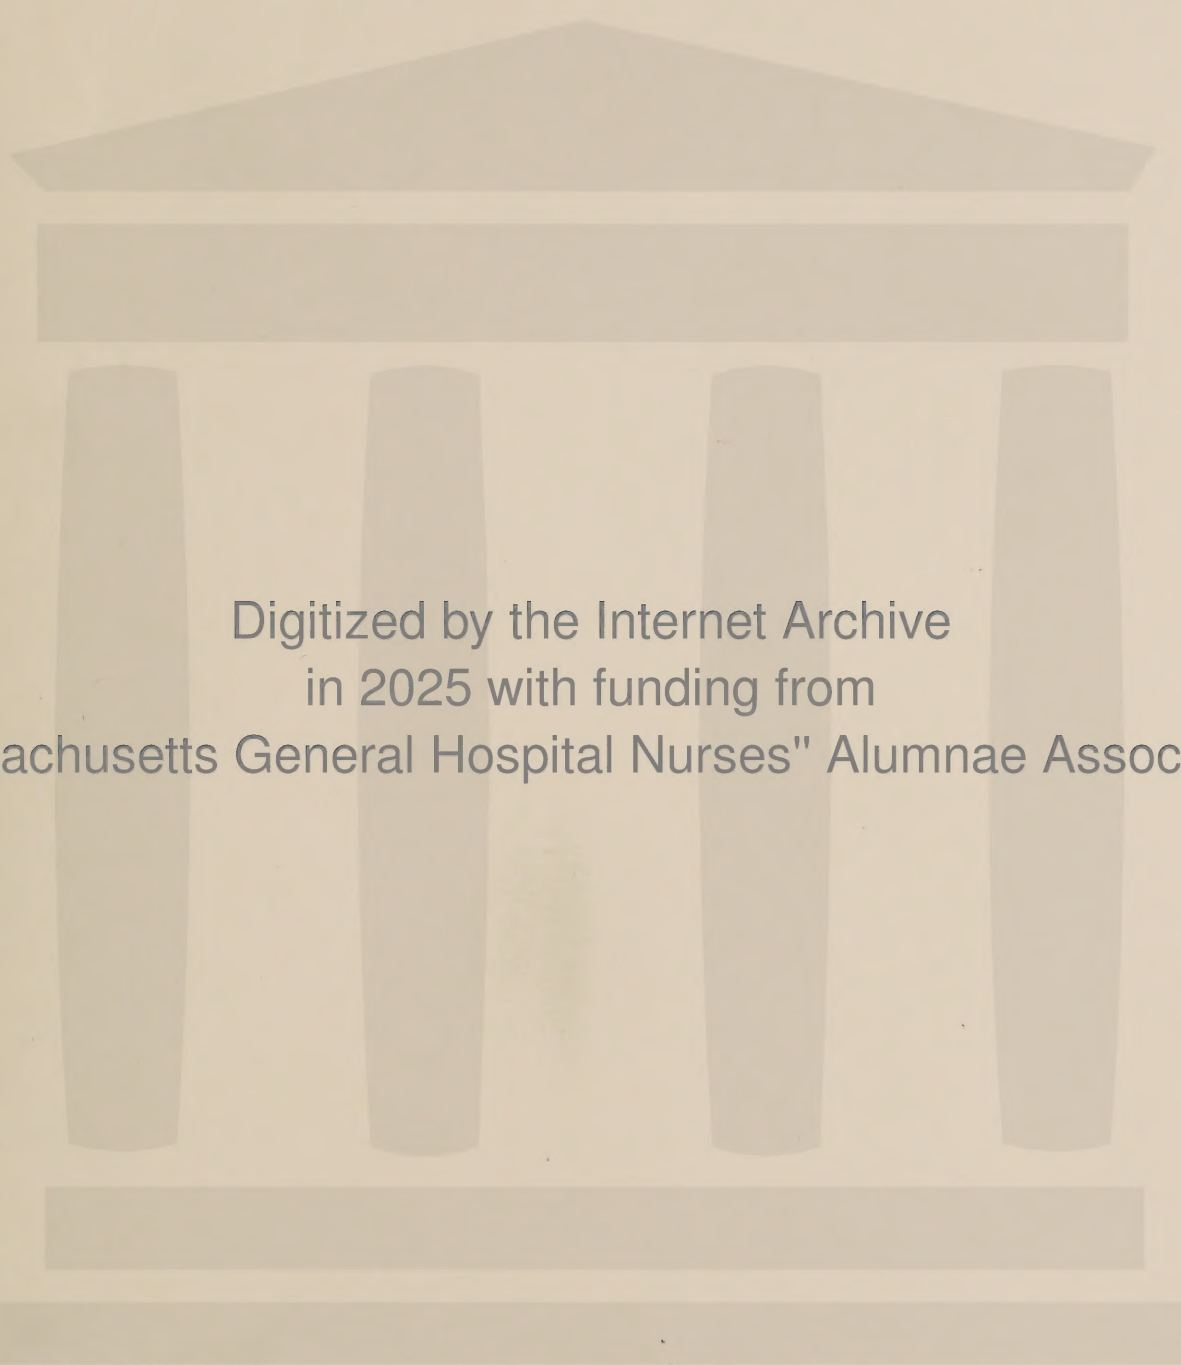

6. During the college vacation periods falling within the academic year no college or University field work activities will be scheduled. As the Cooperative Coordinating Supervisor is employed mornings only in the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing, she would be entitled to half of the usual four week vacation allowance, or four weeks of half days. Combined with her University vacation this would allow four full weeks of vacation.

A. Number of Field Work Students at Massachusetts General Hospital

1. In each semester of the academic year there may be a maximum of eight field work students for a coordinating supervisor.
2. In each semester of the academic year the maximum number of practice teachers in Instruction to Nursing may be, 2; in applied science, 2; in clinical teaching and/or supervision, 6.

B. Conditions Appertaining to the Appointment of the Cooperative Coordinating Supervisor

1. The appointment of a person at the University as Instructor in Nursing Education and Coordinating Supervisor of Field Work Activities at the Massachusetts General Hospital will be contingent upon her appointment to the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing faculty also as of nursing faculty.
2. The term of appointment shall be for the calendar year in accordance with other nursing school faculty appointments. This period will include appointment for the academic year at the University and for the summer term, also, at the election of the Instructor and by arrangement with the Director of the summer session.
3. The time of the appointee shall be considered as half-time at each institution. For duties related to the hospital appointment this shall mean twenty-four hours of service weekly.
At the University this will mean: during the academic year carrying 9 semester hours teaching and service load; 6 semester hours of which is in field work (equal to 16 clock hours) and 3 semester hours of which is in class work (equal to 3 clock hours); during the summer term carrying 6 clock hours of class work weekly for 12 weeks.
4. Her University responsibilities will be:
At the hospital: during the academic year, planning, directing, supervising the field work students' programs and activities.
At the University: during the academic year, teaching at least one course each semester. If the number of field work students drops to three or below, consideration may be given to the Instructor's assisting with or carrying an additional course at the college after the first year of appointment; during the summer term, if so elected and arranged, teaching at least two courses, one in the session and one in summer session, preferably.
5. The University salary for the first academic year of appointment will be $12,000. This is paid in 12 equal installments. An additional sum in accordance with the then prevailing salary schedule will be paid for the two courses taught during the summer term. (Present rate of pay $500 for two courses.)
The hospital salary will be $1,000 for the first year of appointment. This will be paid in 12 equal installments.
6. During the college vacation periods falling within the academic year no college or University field work activities will be scheduled. As the Cooperative Coordinating Supervisor is employed mornings only in the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing, she would be entitled to half of the usual four week vacation allowance, or four weeks of half days. Combined with her university vacation this would allow four full weeks of vacation.

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2025 with funding from Massachusetts General Hospital Nurses' Alumnae Association

<https://archive.org/details/12351fc6academic00mghs>

